

Artist Bio

Carrington Crothers

Carrington is a graphic designer and photographer based in New England. She specializes in portraiture and commercial still life. Her work is influenced by multimedia artists including painters and photographers. Carrington has a unique perspective on photography which incorporates both her design and photography skills. Her work is often described as captivating, graphic, and inviting.

Carrington attended Southern New Hampshire University where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Graphic Design, she also attended New England School of Photography where she earned a certificate in professional photography and she received honors for her portraiture portfolio.