

Photosynthesis Project

Seamus Slattery

Winchester High School

After a month in quarantine my mom and I went on a ride up the Kangamangus highway. We pulled over at a bunch of scenic vistas for me to take pictures. It was very inspiring to be out in nature after spending so much time inside. I found it fascinating that with all the chaos and uncertainty in the world nature stays the same and does not notice. Something about the babbling creeks and gigantic mountains was very striking to me and that is why I want to share it.

The highest point of the Kangamangus Highway

Saco River

Chocorua Center

Pemigewasset River

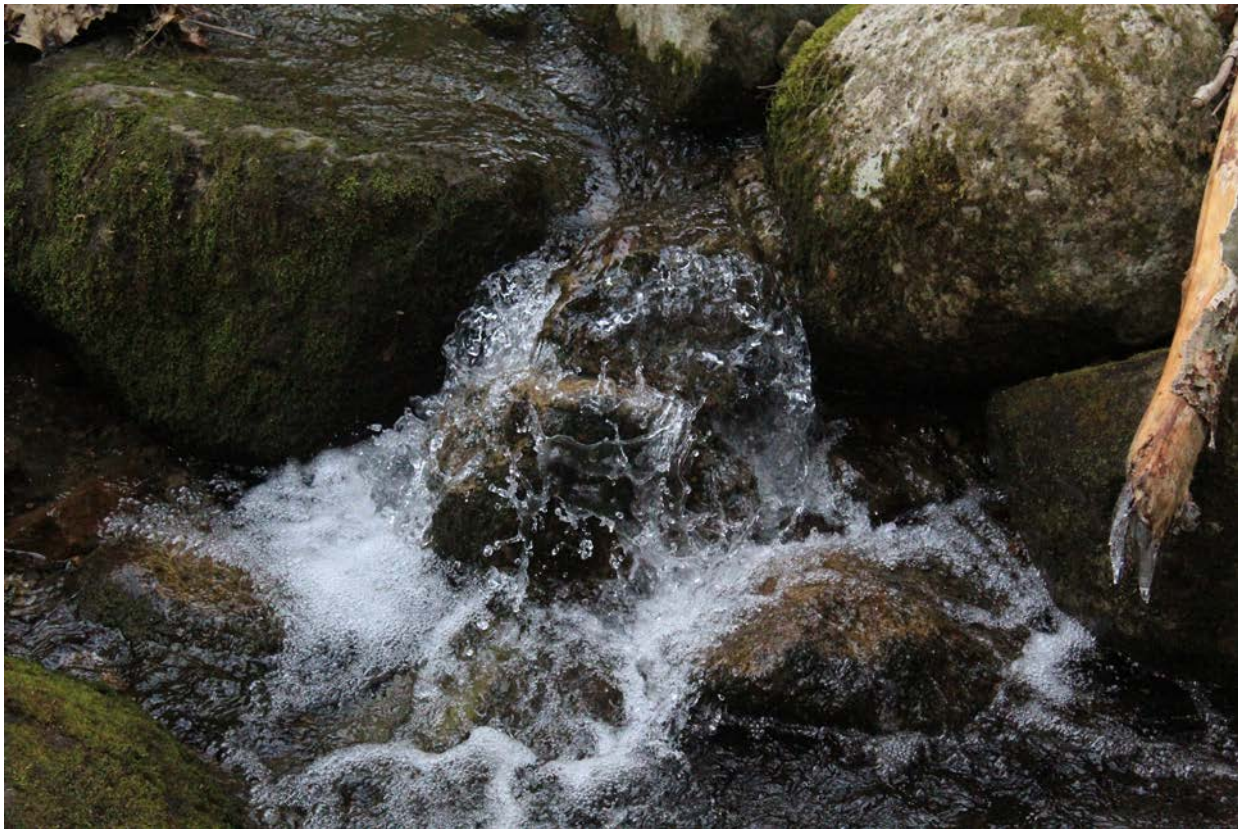

A tree and stream on the side of the highway

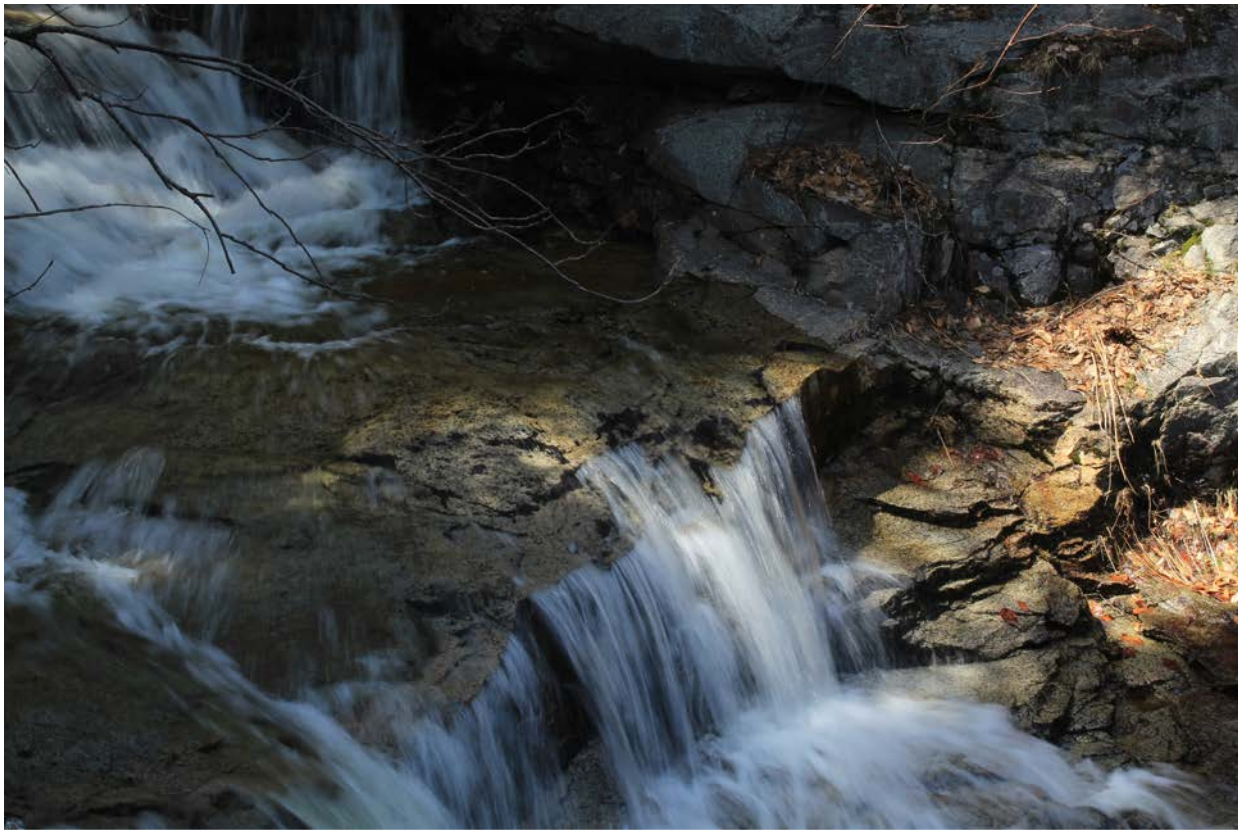

Fallen tree

A stream at Belknap mountain

A stream at Belknap mountain

Brook on the side of the Kangamangus Highway

Cascading water