

Photoville

It's time for the 4th Annual Photoville x Winchester!

Winchester is bursting with art and photographic goodness this summer! Creating a photographic walking trail around the town of Winchester, where the Griffin Museum is located, Photoville x Winchester is a public art installation showcasing national, international and New England photo based artists. Downtown Winchester is filled with sidewalk art, featuring the students of local Winchester schools and contemporary New England based photographic artists.

The Griffin Museum is pleased to partner with Photoville and the Winchester Cultural District to bring this installation featuring 13 exhibitions with the artists lens focused on our changing planet, climate and cultures around the world. This year we highlight photographs by artists Corey Arnold, Alejandro Duran, Emeke Obanor, Marilene Ribero, Amy Sacka, Camille Seaman, Amy Vitale. Additional images and series from the Network for Social Justice, Case Art Fund and Social Documentary Network are on display.

Photosynthesis

Photosynthesis XVII is a collaboration between Burlington High School and Winchester High School facilitated by the Griffin Museum of Photography. Using photography as a visual language, student's increase their vocabulary to communicate about themselves and the world around them. Interacting with fellow students from different programs, backgrounds and schools the students create a capsule of who they are in this moment, learning from each other to create a united exhibition showcasing all they have learned during the program.

Our Town

The Griffin Museum of Photography is thrilled to present, Our Town, a public art installation and community exhibition. Echoing Wilder's poignant reflection on beauty found in the simple places, we invited the residents of Winchester to discover the extraordinary moments within the ordinary spaces we call home.
